

Workshop on wireless technology

A two-day national-level workshop on wireless communication and radiating systems was conducted by the Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering of Sri Sairam Engineering College on March 22. The workshop, sponsored by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research and KM Sivakolundu, project director, Coastal Engineering Group, National Institute of Ocean Technology, under the Union ministry of earth sciences, inaugurated the workshop. A Gopal Central, deputy director, Electronics Engineering Research Institute Chennai Centre, addressed the gathering. A practical session on Wi Comm T, a new software, was also conducted ■